DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kara (US 5,982,506).

Regarding claim 1, which is representative of claims 8-9, Kara teaches of a method of authenticating information communicated between a first communication device and a second communication device via a communication network, comprising the steps of:

- a. receiving input data and generating facsimile information in a first format by said first communication device from said input data (Col 4 Lines 28-32);
- b. processing said input data to compute an encrypted checksum (Col 4 Lines 32-37);
- c. convolving said facsimile information with said encrypted checksum data to produce convolved data (Col 4 Lines 37-43);
- d. decrypting at said second communication device, said encrypted checksum (Col 4 Lines 57-64);
- e. computing a checksum of said input data received at said second communication device (Col 4 Lines 65-67; Col 5 Lines 1-10); and

f. alerting a recipient at said second communication device in the event of a mismatch between said checksum data computed in step (e) and said decrypted checksum data in step (d) (Col 5 Lines 11-22).

Considering claims 2-3, Kara teaches wherein said first communication device is digital facsimile apparatus (Col 1 Lines 5-20; electronic transfer system).

Regarding claim 4, Kara teaches wherein said first communication system is a computer system comprising communication means with communication software installed on said computer system (Col 5 Lines 29-44).

Regarding claim 5, Kara teaches wherein a database system is communicatively coupled to said second communication device (Col 6 Lines 35-44).

Considering claim 6, Kara teaches wherein said second communication system is a computer system comprising communication means with communication software installed in said computer system (Col 6 Lines 12-23).

Regarding claim 7, Kara teaches the step of configuring an email system for receiving and displaying an alert message to said recipient along with said received input data (Col 5 Lines 11-28).

Specification

3. Claim 7 is objected to because of the following informalities: Change "26" to -6-. Appropriate correction is required.
